BREED THEATER.

"A Squaw Man's Revenge." Western Picture Today.

The unanimous opinion of all who were able to secure admission to the Breed last evening was that it was one of the best programmes ever seen there. The superlative degree of excellence might be used in the case of the description of every film, but the one entitled "The Squaw Man's Revenge" being the only Indian picture on the bill, stands out from the others because of its peculiarly genuine atmosphere. The story is superb, and is wholesome and possible, while the photography is almost dazzling in brilliancy. The scene where the squaw braves in an effort to commit suicide, grows herself down a precipitous cliff, is thrilling in the extreme, while the surrounding portion of the fall is carefully eliminated. The character of the squaw is in delightful hands, and to make the story more beautiful, it turns out that the white child, abducted from the pioneers in her early infancy, her mother-in-law is outraged by the colony of miners, where he has brought his wife, they believe her to be a genuine Indian. This arouses the ire of not only the husband, but her foster Indian father and with the band of faithful redskins put in the pursuit of the white man and his wife. The scene is a masterpiece of its kind, and the two lovers are buried side by side with military honors, both victims of the cruel and unrelenting hands of the squaw.

For Monday and Tuesday the timely film entitled "A Red Cross Martyr" on the Firing Line of Tripoli, has been secured and it is indeed one of the strongest and most popular films on the market. It tells the story of the love of a young Italian officer, who aids far away to his sweetheart and leaves for the scene of action. The daily papers are watching eagerly for news from the front, and the little sweetheart, seeing the urgent need for Red Cross nurses, decides to go at once.

She is in the midst of the hottest action, and is wounded by a shot from the gun of an enemy, expiring soon afterwards. Her lover is despatched to do the necessary things for her, and needs in putting the enemy to flight by dropping several bombs into the midst of their encampment, but they finally wound him and he, too, is injured in the full of the machine to the earth and succumbs to the call of the dark angel, and the two lovers are buried side by side with military honors, both victims of the cruel and unrelenting hands of the squaw.

THE AUDITORIUM.

Today will be the last chance to see the all-around good bill at this theater for the last three days of the week, and also the last chance to see the excellent motion pictures of the Equitable Life Building fire which took place in New York about two weeks ago with a loss of about $15,000,000.

Monday will bring an entirely new bill of both vaudeville and pictures, and according to all reports it should be in keeping with the regular high standard kept by this house. Rand's Musical Dogs will be the feature of the vaudeville programme and the intelligence of these little animal comedians, Harry Harvey, will add much to the comedy value of the programme. His original songs and stories, Deyo & Behan in a novelty musical turn will please all the lovers of instrumental music and a screamingly funny best phonograph comedy, "The House Mystery," will close the show and send everybody away in a happy frame of mind.

Dante's Inferno Pictures at James Clancy's Poli Theater.
They came, they saw and they conquered. Everyone who had the good fortune of witnessing Dante's Inferno at James Clancy's Poli Theater, yesterday wondered at the stupendous production of this masterpiece. They are absolutely the greatest thing in the moving picture line and deserve the approval of all.

The opening scenes in the picture at once convince the spectator of the high artistic standard of the whole production. The story of the journey through the dark and gloomy forest, the appearance of the three beasts impeding his way toward the summit, his meeting with Virgil, are depicted with a vividness and realism that is a poem which defy description. All through the country about the valley to the portals with the fatal legend, down into the circles between the Acheron and the Styx are seen wonderfully exact reproductions of the scenes in Dante. The Stygian lake and the adventures on its shores are marvels of pictorial art. The journey into the City of Dis, after the conquest of the opposing fiends, again closely follows the poem. Virgil and Dante pass through the city of Malbolge, down into the lowest circles of Judas and Lucifer, in the lake of fire. Words are quite inadequate to give an idea of the splendor of the films.

DREADED NOTORIETY.

Willimantic Young Woman Should Have Sought Pastor's Advice Earlier.

Willimantic, Feb. 9.—Friday's Catholic Transcript said: "The embarrassment caused Rev. John Papillon, pastor of St. Mary's church, Willimantic, by the young lady who went to court, and then, when her name was in everybody's mouth, returned to her pastor, begging him to save her from intolerable notoriety, ought to prove enlightening to those who desire the counsel of the clergy, and who value their good name more than anything else in this world. The young lady in question had been made the victim of a cruel imposture, but she was not quite prepared to receive her share of the center of gossip for a whole country. After giving publicity to her case she then sought the advice of her pastor. As the day of formal trial drew near she was probably have saved herself much of the gossip which sprang up around her. Incidentally, she would have saved the kind-hearted clergyman from serious embarrassment."

Have You Tried This?

Simple Prescription Said to Work Wonders for Rheumatism

This has been well known to the best doctors for years as the quickest and most reliable cure obtainable for rheumatism and backache. It has been published here for several winters and hundreds of the worst cases cured by it in a short time. "From your druggist get one ounce of Torla compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Results come the first day. If your druggist does not have Torla compound in stock he will get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take some patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Torla compound in the original one ounce, sealed, yellow package."

It is usually the part of wisdom, when one's name is involved, to seek the counsel of one's physician. Costs nothing, and his advice is apt to cover all sides of the case.
